A five-day course for oil and acrylic painters in this lovely Cornish town at the tip of the Roseland Peninsular. Plenty of opportunities for outdoor painting around the Harbour and on the local beach as well as possible group excursions to nearby villages and gardens via car or foot-ferry direct from the town quay.

There are tables and chairs for indoor use but no easels. Free tea and coffee all day. Lunch is not included as there is plenty of choice around St Mawes. Accommodation is extra. Light in the Landscape – oils/acrylics

Watershed Studio, St Osyth, Essex
Tuesday 21st to Thursday 23rd August 2012

This three-day course for oil painters will include some outdoor sketching and painting on locations around the village and local coastline. The emphasis is on painting quickly, aiming to block in the whole painting in one session, working entirely wet-in-wet. Learning is within a small group with tuition aimed very much towards helping each individual artist improve. There will be plenty of impromptu demonstrations to help you to develop your own style as well as more structured learning to help you improve your technical skills.

Facilities:

Watershed studio is a dedicated art centre based on a farm. Well equipped with easels, tables and chairs plus adjacent car park and full disabled access.

Course includes an excellent home cooked lunch with free tea and coffee available all day. Accommodation is extra. Please ask me for a list of local B&Bs.
